IT'S OUR WOMEN UNDER ATTACK!

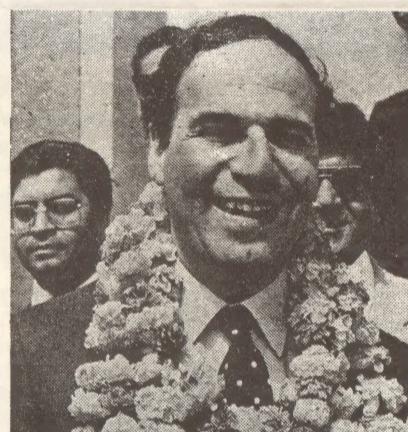

LEON BRITTAN, ADDRESSING an audience at a mosque in Brent, North London, said "Black people in some parts of Britain live in fear of racial attacks. With my encouragement", continued the Home Secretary, "All police forces with substantial ethnic minority populations are now monitoring racial attacks".

During his speech the Home Secretary failed to cite one example of racial harassment or give specific details of racial attacks. Leon Brittan also made no mention of the rising rate of attacks on the indigenous population by coloured immigrants.

It is a dereliction of duty by a minister of Her Majesty's Government that no reassurances were given to the White residents of this country that action would be taken to stem the tide of attacks on them by coloured immigrants. It is also a scandalous affront to those same residents that the Home Secretary should only be encouraging the police to monitor racial attacks on ethnic minorities.

WHITE WOMEN

National Front News is prepared to back up its statements on racial attacks with facts. Statistics for July and August not only reveal a wealth of court cases dealing with horrific racial attacks by Blacks on Whites, but also a continuous string of attacks themselves. The crimes are not only racially motivated but also sexist. Time after time cases reveal that not only are the victims White, but they are women. Our 'Chronicle of Crime' for six weeks during this summer reveals that Britain's women are under attack.

● BRITTAN. Making an art of ethnic grovelling.

FACING THE FACTS!

APOLOGISTS FOR our 'multi-racial society' will deny that any of the 'Chronicle of Crime' for the six week period in July and August are racial attacks, despite the fact that all the attacks were by Black men on White women. It suits them to explain away such attacks as 'crimes for financial gain' or 'crimes of a sexual nature'.

The evidence shows that these were racial attacks. You have got to be an ostrich with your head buried in the sand or have a vested interest in whitewashing Black crime to say otherwise.

In the London Borough of Hackney, a borough where the ethnic minorities are rapidly becoming the ethnic majorities, the 1982 crime figures show that 85% of mugging victims in Hackney were White, i.e. 1,221 out of 1,435 where ethnic appearance was recorded.

The figures for Black and Indian/Pakistani are 76 and 128 respectively. So a victim is 16 times more likely to be White than Black and 10 times more likely to be White than Asian! Who can honestly put their hand on their heart and say that the White people of Hackney aren't being singled out for attack?

KIDDERMINSTER MARCH

OVER 200 National Front members and supporters marched right through the centre of Kidderminster on Saturday 18th August. The march, organised by the West Midlands Region of the National Front was to protest at Britain's membership of the Common Market.

The march was led by the Kidderminster Organiser Jim Barry who is a well known local figure. The London Drum Corps and the flag party ensured that the march attracted the attention of many local people from whom we received a warm welcome with quite a lot of youngsters joining the march.

CRIPPLED

Kidderminster, in particular, and Worcestershire in general have been hit badly by our membership of the E.E.C. which has crippled our carpet industry. Local farmers have been experiencing increasing difficulties because of the sell-out by Tory politicians and now the decision to allow in foreign milk.

DUDLEY

With the police keeping a minimal presence large quantities of leaflets were handed out along the route explaining the reasons for the march. As well as local Kidderminster people one group of about a dozen people had come from Dudley after hearing a radio interview concerning the march.

July 27th. — Widow, Amy Sargentson, 81, will never see again after being stabbed in the eyes with a pair of scissors by an 18 year-old West Indian at her flat in Stonebridge Park, North London.

Sentenced to 12 years youth custody for grievous bodily harm, Stewart also admitted robbing and wounding bookshop manageress, Miss Diane Newell, 27, in Fenchurch Street, London. He had slashed her neck with a knife only eight days after attacking Mrs Sargentson.

July 30th. — A 27 year-old woman was assaulted along with her sister, 22, as they walked along a Birmingham Street. The man, described as Asian, with black hair and a moustache, had threatened the women with a knife before being frightened off by a passing motorist who had stopped to investigate.

Diana Towers

July 26th. — Asian schoolboy Shiraz Khan raped six women within two months threatening some of his victims with a broken bottle.

At Leeds Crown Court, Khan, of Spring Gardens, Bradford was told by the judge "You are a very dangerous young man, you will be released when it's safe to release you".

July 26th. — West Indian schoolboy, Glenn Grant, dubbed the Beast of Belgravia, was described by the Recorder of London, Sir James Miskin QC, as "nasty and beastly".

The Old Bailey heard that the 6ft youth had raped and robbed White women out of envy and to humiliate them. He told police, "They are not so good now they have been raped by a Black boy".

Pussyfooting with Crime

SERIOUS CRIME in London increased by 7% in the first half of this year. Street crimes rose by 8% and the clear-up rate dropped by 6%.

Lambeth Police District, which includes Brixton, returned figures revealing that one-in-ten of Lambeth's 262,000 residents was a victim of crime.

There can be no doubt that 'Community Policing' or 'Ethnic Community Policing' which is probably a more correct title, is the cause of the rise in London's crime rate. It's leading Britain down a very dangerous path to a future where violence on our streets is tolerated because the alternative, to take action against it, could lead to a riotous reaction and direct confrontation.

RECIPE FOR ANARCHY

Scotland Yard's former Deputy Assistant Commissioner, David Powis, who retired at the beginning of September after 38 years as a policeman, makes no bones about his feelings on 'Community Policing'.

"Liberal, 'softly, softly' methods used by police to combat robbery and other serious street crimes following the Scarman Report on the Brixton Riots is a recipe for future anarchy. Any short term advantages will be paid for dearly in the long run."

Another critic of 'Community Policing' is Dr. Guy Cumberbatch from Birmingham's Aston University. He believes that the Police lose all respect employing such tactics and that 'Community Policing' does not work even as a public relations exercise. The communities at the centre of such programmes end up thinking even worse of the police.

REPATRIATION

The National Front believes that 'Community Policing' is just camouflage for demands that the police should treat immigrant communities more leniently. The National Front believes that the greatest single contribution to making our streets safe will be the repatriation of all coloured immigrants and their descendants and dependants from our shores. The National Front believes that crimes of violence should be met by exemplary punishments and as part of this thugs who engage in such crimes as mugging should be birched. At present there is no alternative to custodial sentences for many types of serious crimes and as a result of this we recognise the need to modernise and where necessary enlarge prison facilities.

The British people will only get a safe and orderly society if enough of them want and value such a society. A National Front government can bring about a lawful society but for it to flourish good influences are needed at home and at school. Influences that instill in our youth a respect for life, property and rule of law together with the reasons why a lawful society is in the interests of all its members.

Making Waves in Bath

THE YOUNG National Front group in Bath, Somerset, caused a bit of a stir when, during an evening's leafletting, they put a leaflet through the door of a 'multi-racial' youth club in the town.

The YNF leaflet which outlined the difference between racial groups, upset an official at the club who told the Bath and West Evening Chronicle, "I was horrified and sickened by it, especially because the majority of the kids at the club are black".

CONTRAVENED

The official then wrote to Mr. Christopher Patten, Bath's Tory MP, who described the leaflet as 'nauseating fascist filth'. Patten then wrote to Attorney General, Sir Michael Havers, asking if the leaflet contravened race relations legislation.

Sir Michael Havers wrote back to the MP saying how he deplored the contents of the leaflet and that he had passed it on to the Director of Public Prosecutions, Sir Thomas Hetherington.

Despite all the wailing and gnashing of teeth by those condemning the leaflet, no one disputed that the facts contained in the leaflet were true!

'ZIMBABWE': The Road to a One-Party Marxist State

WHITE RHODESIANS SEALED their own fate back in 1978 when they voted for black majority rule. This collective act of racial suicide brought to an end 90 years of white rule and prosperity. They had foolishly gambled on the assumption that a Conservative government under Margaret Thatcher would recognise the 'moderate' black leader, Bishop Abel Muzorewa and the internal settlement later negotiated between him and Ian Smith.

Of course, Thatcher did nothing of the sort, she sent out 'clever' Peter Carrington to hand the country over to a bunch of Communist murderers. Until very recently the hapless Bishop Muzorewa lay untried in a Harare gaol and comrade Mugabe is putting the finishing touches to his plan for a one-party state; carrying on that great African tradition of one man, one vote, one time.

FOUR YEARS OF 'FREEDOM'

After four years of independence, Mugabe has crushed the ZAPU opposition party led by Joshua Nkomo and has more or less brought under control the areas of Matabeleland, where Nkomo's tribal rebels were operating, by using the much feared (North Korean trained) Fifth Brigade. He was able to demonstrate his iron grip on the country at the recent ZANU party congress by rejecting calls for an elected executive and instead appointed a 14-man Soviet style Politburo. The congress went on to rubber-stamp his plan for a one-party state based on Marxist-Leninist principles.

FOREFATHERS

Sitting on the opposition benches in parliament is the pathetic remnant of the once mighty Rhodesian Front, now called the Conservative Alliance - these traitors to the white race helplessly watch the final destruction of the Rhodesia built by their forefathers. The white farmers who had once been their power base are now in a worse security position than during the war against terrorism. The 4,700 remaining commercial farmers who produce the food which stops the African population from starving as they do in neighbouring Black states are increasingly desperate to leave, even though they will not be able to take any of the wealth they created with them.

Corruption is rife in Zimbabwe, on the day the ZANU congress began, a Black capitalist was put on trial for defrauding the state of £4 million; a number of senior government officials were jailed for taking bribes from the accused. The case was particularly embarrassing as it involved money intended for droughtstricken areas.

On his recent visit to Britain, Robert Mugabe was feted by the inverted racists of Edinburgh University, who despite the atrocities committed by his forces during the war for Black rule and more recently in Matabeleland - thought him a suitable recipient for an honorary PhD. This was agreed 'without dissent' by the university senate, only a handful of dons expressed reservations.

PRINCIPLES

White Rhodesians living in Britain should learn the lesson of history and ensure that this country does not suffer the same fate, by joining the only effective racial-nationalist party - the National Front. While white Rhodesians showed tremendous physical courage in their fight against Black terrorism they were politically naive and were betrayed by their leader in whom they had placed such trust, one Ian Smith. This lesson should be taken to heart by nationalists in Britain, don't put your trust in leaders but in principles. A movement motivated by ideological conviction will not be diverted from its path by false leaders, and will overcome all obstacles to build a free independent Nationalist State that will save our race and nation from destruction. The racial crisis is a global phenomenon, there is no place to run - join our struggle - join the National Front.

Chronicle of Crime

Racial and Sexist attacks by Blacks on Whites!

July 11th to August 25th

August 3rd. - A five month old baby girl was slashed across the knees with a knife by a Black man during a mugging attack on a young mother in Carshalton.

Mrs Janice Powers, 20, was lifting her daughter Kate into a pushchair outside her home when the 6ft attacker pounced.

deck of the No.44 bus in Battersea Park Road.

The assault happened after the two girls had apparently 'snubbed' the Black youths. One girl was punched twice in the face, while her friend, who had started screaming, was punched in the face and stomach. Although the bus was full, no witnesses reported the incident.

August 5th. - Soccer boss Frank McLintock was knocked through a plate glass window by a gang of Black youths when he foiled their attempted rape of a 15 year-old girl.

"I saw this Black youth dragging the girl up an alley" McLintock told the police, "I jumped out of my car and tried to stop him but he punched me in the face. The next thing I knew four or five of his mates had jumped on me."

The manager of third division Brentford also suffered a black eye as well as other injuries but vowed "I'd do it again".

August 6th. - A 55 year-old woman was knocked to the ground by a mugger who stole her handbag containing £1 in Trinity Road, Aston, Birmingham. Police described the attacker as Black, in his early twenties, with dreadlocks.

August 7th. - Nineteen year-old Rosemary Thorburn had her skull fractured when three Black intruders, who had broken into her home, beat her and her boyfriend over the head with a cricket bat. Jeremy Wharam, 24, is critically ill on a life support system at Bristol's Frenchay Hospital where he was taken after the attack at the flat in Ashley Road, St. Pauls, Bristol.

August 10th. - A sixteen year-old girl was rushed to hospital with a ruptured spleen after being attacked, along with her friend, by three youths on the top

August 11th. - A fifty-eight year-old spinster was indecently assaulted and robbed at Blackwater, Hampshire by what local police described as 'a very Black' attacker.

Police believe there is a connection between the attack and a series of others similar in Hampshire. On August 3rd woman was raped at knifepoint in Winchester and only two days before that a 22 year-old woman was the victim of an attempted rape at Locks Heath. Detectives in Eastleigh are known to be investigating a series of fourteen sexually-motivated incidents including an attack on five girl guides at their camp in the New Forest.

August 16th. - A 66 year-old woman needed hospital treatment after she was attacked by two Black muggers in Victoria Road, Aston, Birmingham. She was robbed of less than £1.00.

August 25th. - A frail widow of 86 was punched and kicked from head to toe by a West Indian thug in his early twenties to make her reveal where her valuables, at her home in Handsworth, Birmingham, were kept.

Mrs Phyllis Seale was beaten to almost beyond recognition, suffering a broken collar bone, broken ribs, bruising to her face and neck and extensive cuts to her arms and legs.

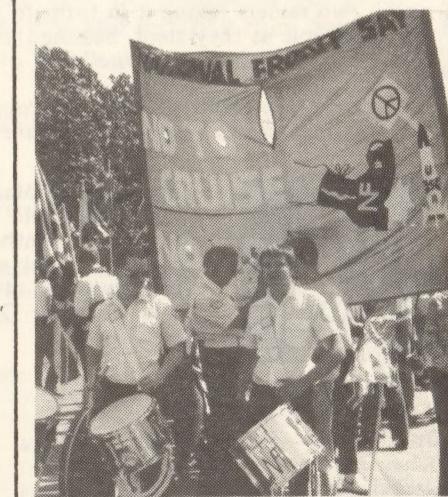

WALTHAM CROSS MARCH

ON SATURDAY 28th July about 150 NF members and supporters marched through the centre of Waltham Cross as part of a major recruiting drive in the town. In the weeks leading up to the march a programme of leafletting and paper selling took place including a paper sale on the morning of the day of the march.

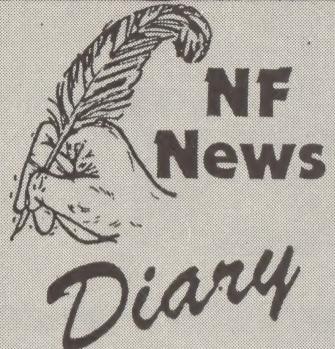

In the afternoon NF members mainly from Hertfordshire gathered at the assembly point near the station before marching off along a convoluted route which took the march through virtually every part of the town centre.

The march was well received by the local people partly as a result of the substantial press publicity prior to the march which, for once, had explained the theme of the march which was "No to Cruise - No to CND".

At the end of the march a rally was held, chaired by Brent Cheetham and with speeches by Phil Andrews, YNF Organiser, Joe Pearce, YNF Chairman and Ian Anderson, NF Deputy Chairman.

Currying Favour

THE MEDIA moguls are so desperate to ingratiate the coloured community with the British public that they will take any steps to curry favour for them.

The Guardian for instance, whose majority of readers would support the Miners' Strike, were told that at the Notting Hill Carnival, "Stickers saying Black people support the Miners were very popular". While the Daily Mail, whose majority would be against the Miners' Strike were told, "A group of Miners who were trying to hand out Black People Support the Miners badges and collect donations were politely ignored".

So what was the truth? It probably doesn't matter, but what does matter is that it can be twisted in such a way to attempt to influence the public.

It's Our Holocaust

JOHN RAE, in The Observer, recorded recently the murderous horrors of the former Pol Pot Khmer Rouge Regime in Cambodia, comparing the atrocities committed there with the alleged 'extermination of the Jews by Nazis'.

The article brought the expected cries of outrage from the always vocal Jewish lobby that nothing could equal the 'Nazi Holocaust'. One A.H. Eisner of London NW4 found it "gratuitously offensive" to make comparisons with the Jewish victims of Nazi terror and denies that "The Jewish community was indifferent to genocide carried out in Kampuchea, and that another holocaust would detract attention from their own tragedy".

Another Ball Game

THE POLICE Complaints Board has accepted the view of the Metropolitan Police that there should be no disciplinary charges against officers involved in the arrest of a black man who sustained groin injuries.

The complaint had been made by Junior Service, a singer, who claimed he was kicked in the groin when arrested for alleged cheque fraud. It was revealed however that Service had jumped from a first floor balcony while trying to evade arrest and landed astride a 4ft high hand rail. Ouch!

LAJBI HOCH, alias Robert Maxwell, will be taking a leading part in the TV commercials for the Mirror's £1 million Bingo Game.

For the Scottish adverts, Hoch will be seen wearing a tartan tie of the Maxwell Clan. So now we have, not only a multi-millionaire passing himself off as a friend of the workers, but a Czech Jew passing himself off as a Scotsman!

Changing the Laws

SIX MONTHS after their abortive court case to stop National Front stallholders selling their wares in Brick Lane, the local Labour Party is launching another campaign to silence the voice of British Nationalism.

The minutes of the September meeting of St. Katherine's Ward of Tower Hamlets Labour Party, reveal that "the council's solicitors be instructed to draft changes in the bylaws to prohibit 'racist literature' being sold on the streets. It was generally felt that the interpretation of the Race Relations laws were ineffective. A Commission for Racial Equality review of these laws had been endorsed by the council, and it was suggested that Peter Shore should be asked to press for changes in these laws".

The minutes also informed us that new members Zaida Ali and Shaka Shakor were welcomed to the meeting and that apologies were received from Mohamed Saddique.

WEST SUFFOLK NATIONAL FRONT

West Suffolk National Front on a recent 'No to Cruise' No to CND' demo outside the Lakenheath US Airbase.

"ALARM OVER NF growth. Monthly meetings held in pubs around Bury" was a recent headline in the Bury Star, a Suffolk paper covering the Bury St. Edmunds area.

The paper reported that an organisation called the Bury Anti-Nazi Group had been formed to combat the National Front" in a region becoming a major growth area for the party". The report also carried an interview with Chief Superintendent John Cullum who confirmed that there had been "increased National Front activity in Bury in recent months.

Chairman of West Suffolk National Front, Nick Griffin told The Star "It was not our choice to concentrate on this area, it's just happened of its own accord. Over 150 official National Front newspapers are now being sold in Bury each month compared with about 25 last autumn".

BR. Heritage Trust

A RAILWAY Heritage Trust is to be set up by British Rail to try to preserve some of its 500 stations, bridges and viaducts officially listed as being of historic interest.

Local authorities, passenger organisations, private architects, local communities and heritage groups are being invited to help protect all types of railway property. This renovation is to take place at both urban and rural stations.

This action is long overdue. In issue 53 of National Front News, we revealed how the Tories had been starving British Rail. We also stated that present passenger services should be seen as rural and urban necessities – and not just profit makers. We need to extend our present rail service – and preserve its rich historical heritage.

SUPPORT YOUR CORNER SHOP

EVER WONDER why the old corner shops are now closed and boarded up? These little shops were once the heart of tight-knit communities, each run by its independent owner who knew most of the customers by name. Now they are nearly all gone.

While many of those that remain have been taken over by grasping Pakistani 'businessmen' who get low interest loans, use cheap family labour and are allowed by councils to stay open on Sundays, many more have been driven out of business by unfair competition from big chainstores such as Sainsbury's and Fine Fare.

Even worse is the effect of the growing number of "superstores". These shops are so large that families can buy everything they need for several weeks in one visit. Because of their huge turnover, they can undercut the prices of many similar retailers.

There are about 360 superstores in Britain. Tesco's alone own around 70.

Of course, the millionaire Capitalists who own the superstores only keep the prices low for long enough to drive their smaller competitors to the wall. Once they get a monopoly, prices shoot up.

Within a few years the small shopkeeper will be extinct. The only way this trend can be reversed is for a National Front government to expropriate the giant supermarkets and lease or sell each section, such as greengrocery or meat, to a private individual.

Many people who are today condemned to remain as till assistants and shelf-stackers would then have the satisfaction and independence of running their own business and making a real contribution to community life.

Save Our Country Bus Services

LIFE IN the British countryside should be a dream come true. But it is becoming a nightmare for those who live in rural areas and can't afford a car.

Bus services have got worse and worse and more and more expensive.

Now they are likely to decline further with the Tories plan to let anyone rich enough to buy a bus put it on the road. That will turn back the clock 50 years to the time when only profitable routes were covered.

The Tory Transport Secretary, Nicholas Ridley, says that his plan will improve bus services.

There speaks a man who travels around in a chauffeur-driven car. How much does he know about those who have to use buses?

The truth is that the Tories are trying to buy short-term popularity by claiming to cut the subsidies from ratepayers to public transport.

The transport service is like the NHS. It is needed most by the old, the young and people on low incomes.

For many ordinary Britons living in rural areas the bus services must be improved – not made worse!

CRISIS OVER RURAL JOBS

AGRICULTURALISTS ARE deeply worried at the effect unemployment and the lack of opportunity for young people are having on Britain's rural communities.

The Royal Agricultural Society of England (RASE) has launched a Rural Training Project to counter the difficulties in providing good quality and inventive youth training scheme opportunities for youngsters who live in the countryside.

John Heath, Chief executive of R.A.S.E., outlined his concern for Britain's rural communities by saying: "Not only are local unemployment levels often very high in rural areas, but the section of alternatives both for young people and adults is much less than can be found in towns and cities."

National Front News shares this concern for the plight of Britain's youth who live in rural areas.

To ensure that our rural areas become once again thriving communities, we demand that all land owned by foreign nationals, absentee financiers and speculators, is expropriated – without compensation – and handed over to local people.

Small holdings and small 'family farms' will replace the current 'Agribusiness' system. Workers Cooperatives will replace large monopoly enterprises.

Only by giving our folk a real sense of possession – and total control over – their work will we revive Britain's rural areas.

Britain at Fault Over Acid Rain

LOCH GRANNOCH – which nestles high in the rolling Galloway hills – is one of South-West Scotland's most scenic spots.

Once upon a time it was also marvellous trout water. As recently as 1961 over six hundred fish were being caught annually. But not one fish has been caught there since the late 70's.

For Loch Grannoch is dead. And the culprit is acid rain.

FOSSIL FUELS

Acid rain begins when fossil fuels, like coal and oil, are burned in power stations, industrial complexes and cars. They give off sulphur dioxide and oxides of nitrogen, which mix with oxygen in the air to form sulphates and nitrates – particles so fine they float in clouds that drift in the atmosphere for hundreds of miles.

Some of this mixes with rainfall, forming sulphuric and nitric acid – acid rain.

But it is not only Loch Grannoch that has been affected by acid rain. In the Galloway region, another 26 Lochs are dying.

And it is Britain's fault that this happens. For it has been estimated that 80% of all the UK's acid rain comes from home sources. We also pollute much of Europe as well.

STRICTER CONTROLS

The National Front has long been to the fore in the fight against acid rain and other forms of pollution.

Our answer to the dangers of acid rain is quite simple – stricter pollution controls on the concerns that are responsible for creating the problem in the first place. This – combined with a wholesale conversion to natural, non-polluting energy sources – would put an end to the destruction of our environment.

EXTEND OUR WATERWAYS

UNNECESSARY POLITICAL battles have delayed and undermined efforts to save canals. That was the view of Sir Frank Price, Chairman of the British Waterways Board from 1968 until his recent retirement.

He claimed that there was much "time lost through ill-advised attempts by some in positions of authority to thwart the expressed wishes of Parliament by denying adequate funds to enable the 1968 Transport Act to be implemented speedily."

Sir Frank also echoed National Front policy by demanding that Britain should foster and improve its waterways instead of allowing the Government to destroy them.

Towards this end, we believe that Britain's canal network should be modernised and extended. This new canal system would then be able to transport a large proportion of the goods that currently go by road and which do not have to be moved at any great speed.

Such a system would also go a great way in reviving areas near our canal network – and at the same time reducing pollution and preserving the small villages that are being literally shaken to pieces by passing Juggernauts.

DENNY DENIED FREE SPEECH

THE Paddington Federation of Tenants and Residents thought they were being clever when they invited all the candidates for the Paddington G.L.C. by-election to a meeting — but deliberately failed to invite the National Front candidate.

No doubt they thought this would avoid "difficulties" and would allow Red Ken Livingstone to speak without sharing a platform with an NF speaker which is against Labour Party policy.

The meeting in a community hall on Wednesday 29th August did not go according to plan. About half way through the meeting attended by about 80 people a group of about a dozen National Front members accompanied Roger Denny, the NF candidate, into the hall.

Roger Denny marched straight through the hall and occupied a vacant seat on the platform to the obvious annoyance of the clearly worried chairman of the meeting. With the NF members seating themselves in the hall the meeting continued, though with an increased level of heckling, until the other candidates had given their ten minute speeches.

UPROAR

The Chairman then attempted to call for questions which caused uproar from the NF members and demands from Roger Denny that as a duly nominated candidate he should be given the same right to speak. The Chairman refused and attempted to push Roger Denny off the platform.

NF members prevented this and chaos ensued for a further twenty minutes until a number of police officers arrived and escorted Roger Denny and two others from the hall despite protests from a number of the members of the public who agreed that he should be allowed to speak. Red Ken Livingstone sat through this with his knees gently shaking, hoping not to be noticed — he seems to be getting more nervous when NF members are about.

This small activity by just 12 NF members won substantial coverage in both the newspapers and on radio with one station recording the whole event.

Roger Denny polled 123 votes (0.77%) in Paddington. His vote was slightly down on the 0.92% polled by the NF in that constituency in 1981.

Brent Cheethem polled 167 votes (1.23%) in Edmonton pushing the Ecology Party into 4th place with double their vote.

Mark Spong polled 227 (1.41%) in Hayes and Harlington. The National Front did not fight this seat in 1981.

Another seat fought for the first time since the seventies was Lewisham West where John Wright polled 266 (1.67%).

PETER CORE, the National Front's candidate in the Rotherhithe Ward of Bermondsey on Thursday 13th September failed by five votes to push the Conservative candidate into fourth place. He polled 50 votes, 2.2% of a 35.5% turnout. Last June at the General Election the Front's share of the poll in Bermondsey was 1.38%.

The full result.

ADDRESS:

HONG KONG: OPENING THE FLOODGATES

IN 1981 THE British lease on Hong Kong expires and Britain is meant to hand 5½ million Hong Kong Chinese back to China. The British people never wanted Hong Kong, ordinary people have never benefited from it, and the sooner the colony and its Chinese population is given back to China the better.

However the British government does not agree. Hong Kong is a major prop for international capitalism which is already in an advanced state of decay. Hong Kong's international trade is greater than India which has a population nearly 200 times as large. It is from this type of international trade that the World's financiers derive their power and wealth.

BRITISH PASSPORTS

What are perhaps more important to the British people are the proposed actions of the British government leading up to 1997. Already approximately 2½ million Hong Kong Chinese have British passports and a further 2 million have the right to obtain British passports in the years leading up to 1997.

What must give cause for anxiety is the fact that the whole question of nationality is the one issue which is not covered by the agreement. When Sir Geoffrey Howe announced the deal he glossed over the glaring omission which makes it even more worrying.

He is however clearly aware of the problem. On 16th May in the House of Commons he stated:

"I have to say that I do not believe that either this Parliament or a successor would favour changes which stimulated emigration from Hong Kong to the U.K. or elsewhere".

In July the Conservative Party Bow Group published a document on Hong Kong which looked at it from a different point of view:

"There may be a massive exodus of people from Hong Kong".

"These will be people many of whom hold British passports, most of whom are versed in English law and culture and all of whom are enthusiastic supporters of the free enterprise system. Their numbers would make the exodus of the Ugandan Asians and the Vietnamese Boat People seem insignificant by comparison, and there would be substantial pressure (probably encouraged by international opinion) to offer many of them a permanent home in this country".

FUTURE

Yet Sir Geoffrey Howe has left this vital part out of the agreement which he so proudly presented to the British people as the solution to all the problems of Hong Kong. Virtually all the permanent residents of Hong Kong are Chinese. When the lease expires in 1997 Hong Kong will once again, be part of China. Of course Britain should try to ensure that the Chinese government treats the people of Hong Kong correctly, but in the final analysis they are Chinese and their future lies in China.

The British passports which they currently hold should never have been issued and should be cancelled on the very day that Hong Kong is handed back to the Chinese. In the meantime not one single Hong Kong Chinaman should be allowed to take up residence in the United Kingdom.

● The exodus from Hong Kong would make those of the Ugandan Asians and the Vietnamese Boat People seem insignificant by comparison.

REFLECTIONS by Ted Budden

MAYBE IT'S the success of the Front Nationale that's caused it but, whatever the reason, the French immigration officers seem finally to have grasped the fact that Les Wogs commence at Dover and to be using as a yardstick the old NF slogan, 'If they're White, they're all right; if they're Black, send 'em back'!

The refusal of the French to recognise the visitor's cards of sambooid day trippers seems to suggest that they have something less than total belief in racial equality. No wonder the race-mixing ratbags who have been provoked into paroxysms of impotent fury. After all, the EEC was supposed to have been part of that process of elimination. They've had such easy success in flooding Britain with Blacks with scarcely a peep of protest from the feeble British and now here are the beastly French actually denying them the right to contaminate the Continent as well. Really, it's enough to make a White Kaffir spit!

THE OLYMPIC Games are over, thank the Lord, having fulfilled their purpose of fostering animosity among nations. The shrill cries of the BBC commentators are stilled, no more to gush torrents of superlatives over this or that putty medalist or, if they're Black, to nigh swoon in a frenzy of adoration.

The phoney flag wagging that accompanied every piffling athletic feat is over too. Strange that, as a nationalist, I found this so repellent.

But my most abiding impression of the Games was my growing conviction that Uncle Sam is an abbreviation of Uncle Sambo since the U.S. team seemed to be almost entirely composed of strutting Blacks.

Except in the swimming, that is. At the pool there was not a Black to be seen. Not only did they not win swimming races, they didn't even compete.

EVOLUTIONARY PATH

Now vile racialists have a theory about this. They assert that it is all due to the negro's evolutionary path — there being no water in the tops of trees.

Others, equally vile, allege that the negro's lack of swimming prowess is because the dense bone of his head drags it under, allowing the small space between their ears to become waterlogged.

Now I believe that such notions are nonsense and should be vigorously discouraged by the Thought Police since they are a menace to the grand multi-racialism we all so fervently desire.

So, as my own personal contribution to the cultural enrichment of the multi-racial society, I intend to prove that Blacks can swim very well if properly encouraged.

I am therefore putting up a prize of £1,000 and a cup, to be known as the Davy Jones Trophy, to be awarded to the first Black immigrant to swim the Channel.

I'm hoping for about 5 million entries. I'm sure something good will come of it!

THE ANNUAL NOTTING HILL CRIME-FOR-ALL

TELEVISION AND press reports after the recent Notting Hill Carnival deliberately sought to mislead the public, while Scotland Yard issued false statistics in order to conceal the extent of crime at the carnival.

Deputy Assistant Commissioner Robert Innes, who was in charge of the police operations, said after the carnival: "there has been very little disorder". But the total number of crimes over the festival was 453 which included murder and rape, while 288 were muggings and street crime. Reports of a "peaceful carnival" have angered many policemen who were drafted in from throughout the capital to police the event.

According to a local newspaper, the Kensington News & Post they resent the image given to the carnival by the media.

"We did feel there was one massive public relations exercise", one told the News and Post.

The carnival was not a "victory" for "community relations". The Notting Hill Carnival was a triumph for the forces of lawlessness and disorder. Behind the 30 per cent increase in crime over the last year lie disturbingly violent attacks with all the misery they entail for the victims.

Carnival Steward, Winston 'Sonny' Tabaner was brutally murdered at a 'carnival' weekend.

He was slashed 22 times with knives, axes and broken bottles wielded by three men after accidentally treading on someone's toe.

A married White woman aged 23, who has one child, was threatened by a Black man on the staircase of a block of flats in the carnival area. The man forced her to the basement of the flats and into an area used for drying washing where he raped her.

22 Police officers were injured, one of them seriously. P.C. Kevin Tressider, was slashed across the ear and neck with a knife when attempting to arrest a youth for robbery. He was taken to hospital and received several stitches to his wounds.

A gang of eight Black youths boarded the rear coach of an east-bound Metropolitan Line train at Westbourne Park. They moved through the carriages using the communication doors, and threatened passengers with knives demanding cash and jewellery.

Two White girls were raped as they left the Carnival. Two Black men approached them in Kensington High Street. They dragged them into nearby Tor Gardens. One girl was forced into the cellar and raped. She was then dragged out and made to watch while her friend was raped.

and 1 Murder

In all there were 62 robberies, at least 53 assaults, 18 burglaries, 16 car crimes, 12 other thefts, seven cases of criminal damage and at least six other crimes including the rape. When Deputy Assistant Commissioner David Powis retired from Scotland Yard after the carnival, he warned:

"Toleration of crimes of violence on the basis that riotous reaction must not be provoked is building up to a future confrontation. There is a law of diminishing returns. This country simply has to decide what it is going to do."

A National Front Government wouldn't necessarily ban the Notting Hill Carnival . . . It would just insist that it's held elsewhere . . . like Kingston, Jamaica!

FRONT IN TOWN HALL PROTEST

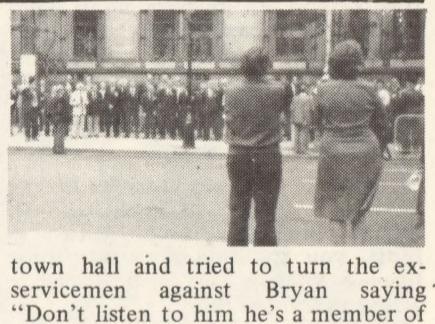

BRYAN NYLAN, a National Front candidate in this year's local council elections in Manchester staged his own demonstration outside Manchester Town Hall at the end of July.

● Bryan Nyland speaks!

He joined over 100 ex-servicemen who were complaining over the council's decision to ban the services from all Manchester's shows and carnivals. Bryan turned up with his megaphone and told those present that the Left-wing influence on the council was responsible for this gross act of anti-patriotism.

Labour councillors rushed out of the town hall and tried to turn the ex-servicemen against Bryan saying "Don't listen to him he's a member of the National Front!"

"So what" replied the ex-servicemen, "Let him speak" shouted others. Bryan Nyland did continue speaking, for over twenty minutes, in front of the ex-servicemen, the councillors and the media, (who heard of the event and rushed their cameras to the town hall) all the time denouncing Communism and expounding the policies of the National Front.

● Labour getting upset.

ENFIELD & HARRINGEY N.F.

MANY AND varied are the ways the National Front members raise money for the cause, and North London members are no exception to the rule!

On Sunday 4th August 1984 Enfield and Harringey NF did a sponsored walk for eight miles along the River Lea, from Tottenham to Waltham Abbey. But Paul Nash, the man chosen for this honourable task, wasn't just walking. He carried a pack with ten bricks in it!

The walk started from the spot outside High Cross School where Albert Mariner was murdered, and continued along the Lea to the tomb of Harold Godwin, killed in 1066 by William the Conqueror. Paul, who completed the task in less than three hours, commented, "I've always been a fan of heavy rock".

The walk raised £60 to go towards the Edmonton by-election. The pun raised a few groans.

THE PRIVILEGED CLASS

August 15th.

A COLOURED immigrant who ran over, with her car, a man who had allegedly insulted her about her colour was given an absolute discharge at Cardiff Crown Court.

Judge Bruce Griffiths giving Miss Janine Santos the absolute discharge and imposing no penalty points for reckless driving said, "If it had been a case of deliberately driving a car at another, that is about as serious offence as can be regarded. But in circumstances where one has been exposed to racial insults that is viewed quite differently."

In Brief: It's OK to run over White people who have made insulting remarks about The Privileged Class.

August 20th.

THE CONSERVATIVE Government is pledged to help Britain's coloured immigrants, Home Secretary, Leon Brittan, told African and Asian community leaders at a meeting called to urge immigrants to register for their voting rights in North London.

He cited the example of the Brent Black Music Co-operative which had been funded by the Government and the GLC to the tune of £848,000 of tax, rent and rate-payers money as an example of that help.

In Brief: The Tories are making sure that the votes they are buying from The Privileged Class are registered.

August 22nd.

AN UNHYGIENIC restaurant owner has been allowed to continue trading. Magistrates at West Bromwich turned down a plea from Sandwell Council that Gous Ahmed of the Meghma Tandori in Union Street should be banned from working in the catering trade.

Council officials had found at the restaurant dirty walls and work surfaces, unclean equipment, filthy toilets, food left uncovered and floors up to two inches deep in grease embedded with waste food.

Ahmed, speaking through an interpreter claimed he was out of the country at the time of the offences visiting his sick mother.

In Brief: If you are a member of The Privileged Class, can't speak any English and have a sick mother in India, you are allowed to serve food from a kitchen two inches deep in grease and rotten food.

August 23rd.

A BLACK school teacher who was turned down for a job at a primary school has accepted a £500 out of court settlement from the Inner London Education Authority.

Although it was not thought that Sandra Taylor of Battersea had been a victim of racial discrimination it was thought that there might have been irregularities at her interview.

ILEA's education officers were urged to "ensure that the governors of the primary school receive specific advice on the need for racial awareness".

In Brief: You are liable to be fined for turning down an applicant from The Privileged Class at an interview.

August 27th.

COLOURED IMMIGRANTS living in Hackney have been told that they can claim compensation if they are not satisfied with their accommodation provided by the council.

Hackney Council has agreed to pay compensation after being served with a "non-discrimination notice" by the Commission for Racial Equality.

So white residents living on certain estates in the borough will find that their black neighbours can claim compensation under this new ruling for racial discrimination at being housed on the estate, yet they will be able to claim nothing.

In Brief: The Privileged Class are entitled to better housing than whites and if they don't get it they must be compensated for that fact.

ROCK AGAINST COMMUNISM

Rock Against Communism has exploded onto the British music scene over the last twelve months giving a new opportunity to many White bands. Undoubtedly the most famous of the bands which have helped build up RAC is Skrewdriver led by Ian Stuart.

Skrewdriver originally came from Blackpool and moved down to London. They had rapidly found that to be White and Racist in Britain's alien dominated music industry was the kiss of death. However far from being disheartened this blatant anti-British discrimination simply made them more determined.

Music Censorship...

NATIONAL FRONT member Dave Tilley from Hackney recounts an interesting encounter with the London Broadcasting Company. He writes to NF News...

"Last night, August 17th, there was a 'phone-in' on LBC concerning pop music. Right, I thought, having read in your paper of the banning of Skrewdriver and similar bands from shops and record papers, I phoned in. The conversation went as follows:-

Me. Hallo LBC?

Lady. Yes, what do you want to talk about?

Me. I would like to know if there is censorship in the pop music industry,

Ian Stuart discussed the problem with the NF and before too long Skrewdriver, banned from the Establishment music clubs, were playing in halls booked up by NF members. Despite the ban of adverts in many music papers an underground news network developed which ensured attendances of between 300 and 500 at the various gigs which have been held.

The production of Rocking the Reds helped to develop this underground network and this has now been incorporated in the new, bigger Bulldog. Other bands soon started to get in touch and now anything between ten and fifteen bands are registered with RAC, an increasing number of these have now played at NF organised gigs. Bands such as Brutal Attack, Public Enemy and The Diehards have all featured at these events.

WHITE NOISE RECORDS

With the refusal of any record companies to produce records for patriotic bands it was decided that RAC would launch its own record label: "White Noise Records". This has been a tremendous success from the start when "White Power" by Skrewdriver was the first record. This was followed by an E.P. "Voice of Britain" also by Skrewdriver.

The next record which is now available is a four track E.P. featuring four bands: Skrewdriver, A.B.H., The Diehards and Brutal Attack. We are also negotiating to distribute Skrewdriver's next L.P. which should be available shortly. The records so far produced have not only achieved significant sales all across the United Kingdom, they have also been sold in increasing numbers abroad in countries such as Germany, Belgium, Holland, Scandinavia and America.

Britain's music industry is dominated by alien influences who thought that they had achieved a stranglehold which would prevent the development of truly White British music. Rock Against Communism has driven a bulldozer right through their cosy set-up and has achieved worldwide publicity as a result. Particular thanks should go to Ian Stuart of Skrewdriver who has stuck with us through thick and thin and is now able to see some of the success that can be achieved in the face of virulent opposition.

and if so why?
(Two minute pause while the lady consults someone)

Lady. I've spoken with Godfrey (the guest on the phone-in) and I'm afraid we haven't time to fit you in.

Me. Aren't you really saying that he doesn't want to discuss the matter?

Lady. Bye Dave . . . and rings off.

Twenty minutes later LBC was still saying 'phone 3538111 if you want to discuss pop music.'

Maybe I should have said I wanted to discuss what a wonderful person Michael Jackson is, they probably would have let me speak for hours".

ANTI-I.R.A. DEMO IN BRADFORD

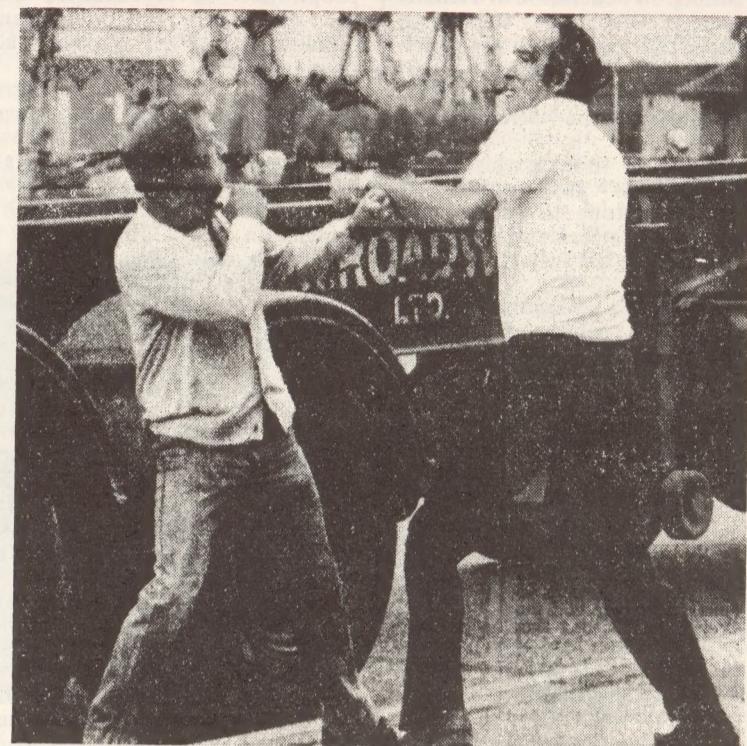

BRADFORD NATIONAL Front staged a successful demonstration outside their Central Library on August 3rd as the Bradford Irish Solidarity Movement met inside.

Over twenty members of the NF were joined by other local patriots to draw attention to the fact that the National Front are denied the right to meet on council premises, yet a group that condones the murder of British soldiers in Northern Ireland, can.

National Front Chairman, Andrew Brons, who was present at the demonstration told local journalists that the Front would continue to picket meetings of the pro-IRA group.

CAPITALISM AND COMMUNISM

The two deadly twins that set British worker against British worker!

AS THE BURDENS of debt-financing and over-production create a world-wide crisis of Capitalism, Britain will be particularly badly hit. A tiny island, with a small and well-unionised population, our nation is, as far as International Big Business is concerned, obsolete. Thus Britain is being rapidly de-industrialised. Factories are closing down at home and are being re-opened in the Far East and behind the Iron Curtain, where low wages mean huge profits.

Unemployment and Bankruptcies

The social and economic effects are already clear, with unemployment and small business bankruptcies rising all the time. The political consequences are, however, not yet certain. If the British people continue to sit back in despair and resignation, we will become so enmeshed in Internationalism that we may be unable to break free.

The False Dawn of Communism

On the other hand, the people may wake up, only to turn to the false dawn of Communism. If this occurs, the survivors of the bloodbath will find that they have simply exchanged unbridled private Capitalism for insatiable State Capitalism. The only difference is that we are at present robbed directly by the Financiers, while under communism the Party Bosses do it for them.

British Nationalism

There is, of course, a third alternative: British Nationalism. The people of Britain could reject the rule of the Money Power and its liberal or Marxist puppets. A sovereign British government could reassert its right to issue the nation's credit and strip the Bankers of their stolen fortunes. This would allow the government to make interest-free loans to new businesses and smallholdings and, combined with import controls, would give the people of our great Race and Nation the prosperity and security they deserve.
